Etta looked from one to the other. She had at the first impulse gone over to Steinmetz. She was now meditating, drawing back. If De Chauville kept cool all night yet be well—the dread secret of the probability of Sydney Bamforth being alive might still be withheld from Steinmetz.

She had to decide quickly. She decided to assume the role of peace-maker.

"M. de Chauville was on the point of going," she said. "Let him go."

"M. de Chauville is not going until I have finished with him, madame. This may be the last time we meet. I hope it is."

De Chauville looked uneasy. His was a ready wit, and fear was the only feeling that paralyzed it. Etta looked at him. Was his wit going to desert him now when he most needed it? He had ridden boldly into the lion's den. Such a proceeding requires a certain courage, but a higher form of intrepidity is required to face the lion standing before the exit.

Steinmetz turned to Etta.

"Princess," he said, "will you now, in my presence, forbid this man to come to this or any other house of yours? Will you forbid him to address himself either by speech or letter to you again?"

"You know I cannot do that," replied Etta.

"Why not?"

Etta made no answer.

"Because," replied De Chauville for her, "the princess is too wise to make an enemy of me. In that respect she is wiser than you. She knows that I can send you and your prince to Siberia."

Steinmetz laughed.

"Nonsense," he said. "Princess," he went on, "if you think that the fact of De Chauville's numbering among his friends a few obscure police spies gives him the right to persecute you, you are mistaken. Our friend is very clever, but he can do no harm with the little that he knows of the Charity league."

"Without going into affairs which do not concern you," said the Frenchman, answering for her, "I think you will recognize that the secret of the Charity league was quite sufficient excuse for me to request a few minutes alone with the princess."

"Princess," said Steinmetz, "answer me before it is too late. Has De Chauville any other hold over you?"

Etta nodded, and the little action brought a sudden gleam to the Frenchman's eyes.

"If," said Steinmetz, looking from one to the other—"if you two have been deceiving Paul I will have no mercy, I warn you of that."

Etta turned on him.

"Can you not believe me?" she cried. "I have practiced no deception in common with M. de Chauville."

"The Charity league is quite enough for you, my friend," put in the Frenchman hurriedly.

"You know no more of the Charity league than you did before, than the whole world knew before, except this lady's share in the disposal of the puppers," said Steinmetz.

"And this lady's share in the disposal of the papers will not be welcome news to the prince," answered De Chauville.

"Welcome or unwelcome, he shall be told of it tonight."

Etta looked round sharply, her lips apart and trembling.

NICHOLS the Architect, Bloomington, Indiana.

"By whom?" asked Steinmetz.

"By me," replied Steinmetz.

There was a momentary pause. De Chauville and Etta exchanged a glance. Etta felt that she was lost. This Frenchman was not one to spare either man or woman from any motive of charity or chivalry.

"Even if that is so," he said, "the princess is not relieved from the embarrassment of her situation."

"No?"

"No, my astute friend. There is a little matter connected with Sydney Bamforth which has come to my knowledge."

Etta moved, but she said nothing. The sound of her breathing was startlingly loud.

"Ah, Sydney Bamforth," said Steinmetz slowly. "What about him?"

"He is not dead; that is all."

Karl Steinmetz passed his broad hand down over his face, covering his mouth for a second.

"But he died. He was found on the steps and buried at Tver."

"So the story runs," said De Chauville, with easy sarcasm. "But who found him on the steps? Who buried him at Tver?"

"I did, my friend."

The next second Steinmetz staggered back a step or two as Etta fell heavily into his arms. But he never took his eyes off De Chauville.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

STEINMETZ laid Etta on a sofa. She was already recovering consciousness. He rang the bell twice, and all the while he kept his eye on De Chauville. A quick touch on Etta's wrist and breast showed that this man knew something of women and of those short lived faintings fits that belong to strong emotions.

The maid soon came.

"The princess requires your attention," said Steinmetz, still watching De Chauville, who was looking at Etta and neglecting his opportunities.

Steinmetz went up to him and took him by the arm.

"Come with me," he said.

The Frenchman could have taken advantage of the presence of the servant to effect a retreat, but he did not dare to do so. It was essential that he should obtain a few words with Etta. To effect this he was ready even to face an interview with Steinmetz.

He preceded Steinmetz out of the room, forgetting even to resent the large, warm grasp on his arm. They went through the long, dimly lit passage to the old part of the castle, where Steinmetz had his rooms.

"And now," said Steinmetz, when they were alone with closed doors, "and now, De Chauville, let us understand each other."

De Chauville shrugged his shoulders. He was not thinking of Steinmetz yet. He was still thinking of Etta and how he could get speech with her. With the assurance which had carried him through many a difficulty before this, the Frenchman looked round him, taking in the details of the room. They were in the apartment beyond the large smoking room—the anteroom, as it were, to the little chamber where Paul kept his medicine chest, his disguise, all the compromising details of his work among the peasants. The broad writing table in the middle of the room stood between the two men.

"Do you imagine yourself in love with the princess?" asked Steinmetz suddenly, with characteristic bluntness.

"If you like," returned the other.

"If I thought that it was that," said the German, looking at him thoughtfully, "I would throw you out of the window. If it is anything else, I will only throw you downstairs."

De Chauville bit his thumb nail anxiously. He frowned across the table into Steinmetz's face. In all their intercourse he had never heard that tone of voice; he had never seen quite that look on the heavy brow.

NAGGING

Newport News, Va., July 22, 1903.

Last summer while recovering from illness of fever, I had a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism in the knees, from which I was unable to leave my room for several months. I was treated by two doctors and also tried different kinds of liniments and medicines which seemed to relieve me from pain for awhile, but at the same time I was not any nearer getting well. One day while reading a paper I saw an advertisement of S. S. S. for Rheumatism. I decided to give it a trial, which I did at once. After I had taken three bottles I felt a great deal better, and I still continued to take it regularly until I was entirely cured. I now feel better than for years, and I cheerfully recommend S. S. S. to any one suffering from Rheumatism.

613 3rd St. CHAS. E. GILDERSLER, Va.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or some other acid poison in the blood, which when deposited in the muscles and joints, produce the sharp, cutting pains and the stiffness and soreness peculiar to this disease. S. S. S. goes directly into the circulation, all irritating substances are neutralized and filtered out of the system, the blood is made pure and the general health is built up under the purifying and tonic effects of the vegetable remedy.

Write for our special book on Rheumatism which is sent free. Our physicians will advise without charge all who will write us about their case.

Crowning Feature of the Inaugural Ceremonies Promises to Be a Record Breaking Parade.

Grand Marshal Has Made Public the Details of Formation and Line of March.

Washington, March 3.—The details of the personnel of the great military and civic pageant which is to be the crowning feature of the ceremonies of President Roosevelt's inauguration on March 4, are given in "General Orders No. 5" of the grand marshal made public today by the inaugural committee.

THE INAUGURAL PARADE.
[As it will appear marching down Pennsylvania avenue.]

It gives the order of the parade, its organization, movement and dismissal and shows all of the military and civic bodies which are to participate as well as the position which they will occupy. It is estimated that approximately 30,000 men will be in line.

The parade ceremonies of the day are: Escort of the president from the White House to the capitol at 9:30 a. m.

Afternoon review of the military and civic parades.

Escort of the president from the capitol to the White House at the conclusion of his inaugural address, at about 1:20 o'clock p. m.

Review of the military and civic grand divisions by the president from the latter's stand in front of the White House at 2:45 p. m.

Dismissal of parade.

The president, accompanied by his personal escort, composed of Squadron A, N. G. N. Y., and a detachment of the late First United States Volunteer cavalry, will be escorted at 10 a. m. from the White House to the capitol by the grand marshal and staff and a division composed of veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American wars and of the regular army and navy of the United States, commanded by Major General Oliver O. Howard, U. S. A.

The president will be received by his personal and veteran escort as he comes out of the west gate of the White House and immediately thereafter Squadron A will form column of platoons to the left and, preceded by the grand marshal, his staff and aides, will march to the capitol, the detachment First United States Volunteer cavalry remaining in line until their front is cleared by the presidential party in carriages, will dispose themselves equally on both sides of these carriages at five yards distance. Aides specially detailed from the staff of the grand marshal will be posted along the line of march, whose duty it will be to see that the column is kept closed and moving.

At the conclusion of his inaugural address the president will be received at the speaker's stand by the First brigade First division military grand division, and the column will immediately move. The route will be north through the capitol grounds to B street north, thence to First street west, thence to Pennsylvania avenue, where the column will be halted while the president's personal escort will conduct the president and party through the east gate to the White House, where luncheon will be served.

The parade will be reviewed by the president from a stand on the south side of Pennsylvania avenue opposite the White House. The guide will be left throughout the entire march and salutes be rendered according to the requirements of the drill regulations of the respective arms for the military grand division. The route of the column will be west on Pennsylvania to Twentieth street, thence north of Twentieth street to K street, thence east on K street to point of dismissal. The march will be in quick time, the length of step thirty inches, and the cadence 120 steps per minute. The Fifth band artillery corps U. S. A., whose position is at the head of the column, is the only band which will play "Hail to the Chief" at any time. Bands marching in close proximity will alternate in playing. In each division the band of the leading regiment will begin playing at First street west, of the next regiment at Second street west, of the third regiment at Third street west, and so on in succession to Sixth street west, the object being to distribute uniformly along the avenue the music of the bands and drum corps. In passing the reviewing stand all bands will play, marching in quick time (120 steps per minute). No carriages will be allowed in the parade except those occupied by the presidential party.

SOOTHING BALM

Stoessel's Reception by the Czar Was All He Could Desire.

St. Petersburg, March 3.—General Stoessel, who was given an audience of the emperor last evening, was received by his majesty with a warmth which went far to atone for the cool reception which he was given by several of the newspapers and military factions. General Stoessel is being feted by society. A large dinner was given in his honor last night after his return from Tsarskoe Selo.

No steps have been taken yet toward an investigation of the surrender of Port Arthur, but the whole matter will soon be placed in the hands of a commission of inquiry in order to clear up the circumstances in dispute.

Mighty Battle in Progress.

Mukden, March 3.—The thunder of cannon is heard from all positions. Putloff and Novgorod hills are hidden by the smoke from the guns. The bombardment was resumed after the repulse of an infantry attack by Japanese. A heavy bombardment is also in progress in the neighborhood of the Shakhie bridge, apparently in preparation for an attack in that quarter. The weather continues fine and warm. The Chinese are preparing to sow their grain.

Cause for Anxiety.

St. Petersburg, March 3.—Black clouds are again lowering over the industrial situation of Russia. The strike at Moscow has been resumed on a large scale, anarchy reigns in the Caucasus and at St. Petersburg the measures which the government advanced to quiet discontent and restore good relations between masters and men appear to have failed, with the probability of causing the storm to break anew.

To Force Decisive Battle.

Tokio, March 3.—The Japanese are endeavoring to force a decisive battle in Manchuria, but it is feared that General Kuropatkin will retreat, fighting a rear-guard action.

THE DEATH POTION

Who Put Strychnine in Mrs. Leland Stanford's Soda Bottle?

CRIME IS NOW CERTAIN

There Were No Less Than 662 Grains of Death Dealing Drug in Bottle Used by Mrs. Stanford.

San Francisco Police Are Now Investigating Clue Leading to That City.

San Francisco, March 3.—The receipt by the acting chief of police of a cablegram from High Sheriff Henry of Honolulu, stating that there were no less than 662 grains of strychnine in the bottle of bicarbonate of soda from which Mrs. Jane Stanford took a dose shortly before her death has aroused the detective force of this city, and every effort is being made to discover who placed the poison in the medicine. The bottle containing the bicarbonate of soda and its death potion originally were purchased in Australia. But, according to Miss Berntha Berner, Mrs. Stanford's private secretary, and the maid, May Hunt, the bottle was refilled in this city at a local drug store.

MISARRIAGE OF JUSTICE

Pennsylvania Man Says His Innocent Brother Was Hanged.

Washington, Pa., March 3.—"My God! That's my brother! He never killed that woman! I am the murderer. I should have been hanged instead of Eugene!" cried Adolph J. Bloch in a frenzy of remorse, interrupting a companion at the steel mill in Cannonsburg, who was reading to him an account of the hanging of Eugene Bloch at Allentown on Tuesday. He is in the Washington county jail today, awaiting a hearing on the charge of the murder to which he has confessed and for which his innocent brother has been executed. He is a German Jew, twenty-six years old, and formerly lived in Philadelphia. His brother was hanged for the alleged murder of Mrs. Kate Falsinger on Aug. 6, 1903.

Adolph Bloch declared to the authorities after the item had been read to him that he himself killed Mrs. Falsinger and that the brother who had been hanged was guiltless. Bloch is a mill-worker, reads newspapers but little, and says he knew nothing of the trial, conviction and execution of his brother until yesterday.

A SLIM MAJORITY

Mr. Balfour's Hold on Government Is Weakening.

London, March 3.—The house of commons last night in committee on supply considering the army estimate with a reduced attendance gave the government a majority of only 24 on a minor amendment. The result of this division was received with an outburst of cheering by the opposition.

Mr. Lloyd George (Advanced Liberal) immediately moved to report progress. He accused the government of filibustering in order to gain time and whip up the majority, thereby sacrificing the time of the house. He said it was evident that there was a split in the ministerial ranks, and that the commons were tired of Mr. Balfour and the ministry.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE"

PRAISE FOR A FAMOUS MEDICINE

Mrs. Willadsen Tells How She Tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Just in Time.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words."

"Before I wrote to you, telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steady and spent lots of money on medicines besides, but it all failed to help me. My monthly periods had ceased and I suffered much pain, with fainting spells, headache, backache and bearing-down pains, and I was so weak I could hardly keep around. As a last resort I decided to write you and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful that I did, for after following your instructions, which you sent me free of all charge, my monthly periods started; I am regular and in perfect health. Had it not been for you I would be in my grave to-day."

"I sincerely trust that this letter may lead every suffering woman in the country to write you for help as I did."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse all substitutes.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

The Southern Railway was fined $900 and costs on nine counts, the Illinois Central railroad $300 and costs on three counts, and the Wabash road $100 and costs on one count. There are cases pending against a number of other railroads.

Judge Humphrey said the railroads were guilty of culpable negligence in not keeping in order the automatic couplers with which their cars were supplied.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1905.

TOMORROW Theodore Roosevelt will be inaugurated President and Charles W. Fairbanks, Vice-President. From all parts of the country people have gone to witness the ceremonies.

The assessor is out at work and his work is of large importance. The taxpayers can be of much assistance to him if they will. It is a big job to properly list all property in a township for taxation.

There was some disorder at the opera house last night that was annoying and should not be repeated. It is an easy matter to behave when in a public gathering. The penalty for disturbing a public meeting can be made pretty severe.

E. O. WOLOTT, former Senator from Colorado, is dead. He served two terms in the United Senate and achieved a high place among public men. He was an orator of renown and during his public career he was sought after much to fill engagements as a public speaker.

BEFORE the legislature adjourns it should send to the Governor for his approval the bill which has for its purpose the finding of sequestered property and placing same on the tax duplicate. There is too much property now that escapes taxation and if this bill becomes a law the amount of such property will be reduced materially.

THE Anti-trust Bill introduced by Representative Guir was killed by the Senate. It was argued that if the bill became a law, the small factories would be injured more or less. Some of the Senators argued that the purpose of the bill to reach some combinations would do damage to nearly all manufacturing industries, and even reach labor organizations, therefore it was defeated.

Presbyterian Church,

Rev. G. W. Shields will begin the regular services at the Presbyterian church on next Sabbath. Preaching both morning and evening at the usual hours. A full attendance is especially desired.

Osteopathy is a science of healing based upon the most perfect attainable knowledge of anatomy and physiology of the human body. It is not faith cure, massage or Christian Science. It contains nothing that is not common sense and is in accordance with the laws of nature. Osteopathy reasons that when all the structures and tissues of the body are in their normal position and condition so that nerve forces, and circulation of the fluids are in no way interfered with, health is the natural result. It means the discovery of the cause or causes of diseased conditions, the removal or correction of these causes and restoration of normal nerve and blood conditions.

Dr. H. M. Dawson practices this science as taught by the founder under whom he is a graduate and to those afflicted he will take pleasure in examining and explaining their individual cases.

THE LEGISLATURE

Gossip About the Doings of the Indiana Law-makers.

The cities and towns bill is now in a far way to become a law, but the official term of the present officers will not be extended. They will serve out the term for which they were elected and will be eligible to succeed themselves. If the bill becomes a law in its present form, all cities and towns in Indiana will have elections next November.

The House has passed a bill repealing the law of 1903, which exempted state and municipal bonds from taxation. The Senate may concur in this action, but if it does, it will have to be done today or tomorrow.

Governor Hanly is expected to receive bills until Saturday night. The legislature closes at midnight Monday night, and under the Constitution it is optional with the Governor whether or not he receives bills during the last three days of the session. The Governor is well up with his part of the work and has consented to receive bills for his approval or disapproval until Saturday night.

Representative Honan's bill providing for uniform reports to the Governor from all state institutions shortly before each state election, has been signed by the Governor.

The measure regulating private banking was passed to the third reading in the House yesterday without amendment. It will probably pass the House today and go to the Governor for his signature.

The Governor has signed the insurance measure, which permits foreign mutual fire insurance companies to do business in Indiana. Before they can write insurance in this state, each company must have cash assets amounting to $50,000 and premium notes amounting to $200,000.

The new legislative apportionment bill is now a law. Under this law Jackson, Brown and Washington counties form a senatorial district.

Review of Reviews.

If any magazine in the world can be characterized as up-to-date, it's the American Monthly Review of Reviews. Take the March number, for example: The frontispiece is a portrait of the murdered Grand Duke Sergius of Russia. The principal contributed article is a graphic account of the most recent developments in Russia, entitled "The Doom of the Russian Autocracy," by Dr. E. J. Dillon, who wrote from St. Petersburg several days after the tragic events of Sunday, January 22, of which he was an eyewitness. Another important contribution to this month's Review is Prof. John Bassett Moore's exhaustive survey of the relations between the United States and Santo Domingo, which are just now under discussion in the Senate. Apropos of the inauguration on March 4, there are three articles on phases of the Roosevelt regime in Washington.

A Dinner Invitation.

After a hearty meal a dose of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will prevent an attack of indigestion. Kodol is a thorough digestant and a guaranteed cure for indigestion, dyspepsia, gas on the stomach, sour risings, bad breath and all stomach troubles. N. Watkins, Lebus, Ky., says: "I can testify to the efficacy of Kodol in the cure of stomach trouble. I was afflicted with stomach trouble for fifteen years and have taken six bottles of your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure which entirely cured me. The six bottles were worth $1,000 to me." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest any quality of all the wholesome food you want to eat while your stomach takes a rest—recuperates and grows strong. This wonderful preparation is justly entitled to all of its many remarkable cures. Sold by A. Pelless and W. F. Peter Drug Co.

March Lippincott's

Lippincott's Magazine for March opens with an admirable novelette from the pen of a United States Army officer, Captain Archibald W. Butt. It is entitled "Both sides of the Shield" and is placed in the South at a period about thirty years after the War of the Rebellion. A young Boston journalist in quest of "stuff" about the families of the old regime with which to regale his New England audience, gets right down to the core of this subject through a lucky encounter with a typical middle-aged Georgian "Colonel."

Like Finding Money.

Finding health is like finding money—so think those who are sick. When you have a cough, cold, sore throat, or chest irritation, better act promptly like W. C. Barber, of Sandy Level, Va. He says: "I had a terrible chest trouble caused by smoke and coal dust on my lungs; but, after finding no relief in other remedies, I was cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds." Greatest sale of any cough or lung medicine in the world. At W. F. Peter Drug Co., 50c and $1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

$5,000

Reward will be paid to any person who can find one atom of opium, chloral, morphine, cocaine, ether or chloroform in any form in any of Dr. Miles' Remedies.

This reward is offered because certain unscrupulous persons make false statements about these remedies. It is understood that this reward applies only to goods purchased in the open market, which have not been tampered with in any way.

Dr. Miles' remedies cure by their soothing, nourishing, strengthening and invigorating effects upon the nervous system, and not by paralyzing and weakening the nerves as would be the case if these drugs were used.

For this reason Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are universally considered the best pain remedy. "I have suffered for 25 years with severe pains in my head, heart and back, and have tried everything I could get and could not find any relief until I got a box of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I suffered as long as 12 hours at a time with such severe pains that I feared I would lose my mind. The Anti-Pain Pills gave me relief in from 10 to 20 minutes. I do not have to use Morphine any more. I wish you would publish this so that other sufferers may find relief."

I. A. WALKER, R. F. D. No. 8, Salem, Ind. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

HERE'S WHAT'S WANTED

A Citizen Of Seymour Supplies

The Information.

Over half the complaints of mankind originate with the kidneys. A slight touch of backache at first. Twinges and shooting pains in the loins follow.

They must be checked, they lead to graver complications. The sufferer seeks relief. Plasters are tried, and liniments for the back.

So called Kidney cures which do not cure. The long-looked-for result seems unattainable.

If you suffer, do you want relief? Follow the plan adopted by this Seymour citizen.

Harrison Dowell of 120 Jeffersonville Ave., gate keeper for L. R. R. says: "I did not use many Doan's Kidney Pills myself but they proved very efficacious. My wife and I procured them at C. W. Milbourn's drug store and in addition to our experience which warrants us in recommending them I know of acquaintances who have used them with the best results. We always keep them in the house for they proved a reliable remedy for the back, bladder, or kidneys."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Revival Services.

Last evening Rev. Taylor preached on "The Laboring Men and Women." His text was Eccles. 5:12, "The sleep of a laboring man is sweet whether he eat little or much, but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep." It is not more holidays and more labor saving machinery we are needing as much as we are needing willing hands to work. It is unpopular and unfashionable for young ladies to work. If we had more working girls and restless mothers we would have fewer fallen girls, and fewer mother's hearts broken. The nearest thing to religion the world can afford is a good day's work and a good night's sleep without bad dreams. God cursed the earth and made it bring forth thistles and thorns and fixed the thing up so that man must earn his food by the sweat of his brow, for his own good. And yet we need something else. Jesus gave the invitation, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." This labor refers not only to labor of heart but Jesus was always talking to the laboring people.

Rev. Taylor preaches Saturday night on Seymour's greatest sinners, who are they? Services every afternoon at 2:30 every evening at 7:30.

GOVERNOR'S FIRM HAND

Chief Executive Acts as Pilot For the Legislative Ship.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 3.—Governor Hanly has taken a hand in the almost frantic scramble that is on among legislators to push through, in the last days of the session, bills in which they are particularly interested and which undoubtedly would fail to receive as much as a hearing without special pressure being brought to bear. He seems to have a few measures for which he would like a clear field and he has taken advantage of the opportunity which his office affords to suggest to Speaker Cantwell those bills which, he believes, should receive attention over the rest. The speaker received from the governor Wednesday a list of the measures which the latter would like to see acted upon before the session closes. The governor shares the opinion of the great majority of the legislators that a few hundred bills must die with the session. But he does not want to see important legislative matters die for want of attention during the closing days. Hence his suggestions to the speaker. Under Speaker Cantwell's ruling all bills must be handed down for passage in regular order. Numerous requests have been made of him during the last week to advance bills but he has refused. Those who have been turned down are wondering how the bills that the governor is interested in can receive consideration unless the speaker waives his ruling and hands them down, out of their regular order, for passage.

Friends of Representative Guir in the Fifth congressional district are working quietly, starting a congressional boom for him. Should one of sufficient size develop to warrant an announcement of his candidacy, it is understood that Guir would not refuse to enter the race. Since the present session opened Guir has received hundreds of letters from different parts of the Fifth urging him to be a candidate for the Republican congressional nomination. Should he enter the race he would oppose Congressman Holliday, the present incumbent.

Evidently thoroughly frightened by the fact that a few hundred bills will die with the end of the session—cast aside for lack of time to consider them—many legislators are making frantic efforts to hurry action on bills in which they are particularly interested. Speaker Cantwell is the target. On his desk are fully 150 bills, which, according to his recent ruling, must be handed down in order. Efforts on the part of many representatives to have the more important bills advanced have been unavailing.

It seems certain that the present session will be productive of some sort of automobile legislation. Unable to agree as to the provisions of a suitable bill a conference committee composed of two members from each house, has arrived at compromises and will ask their respective branches to accept them. The bill, as now drafted, provides for a speed limit of eight miles an hour within town and city limits. The maximum fine for violations is $50.

Governor Hanly has signed the Guir insurance bill, a measure which permits foreign mutual insurance companies to enter Indiana and do business. They must have premium notes amounting to $200,000 and cash assets amounting to $50,000. When the bill was in the house it was bitterly fought by the "old line" or stock fire insurance companies. Up to this time there have been no foreign mutuals doing business in the state.

The separation of the girl's industrial school from the women's prison is now to be accomplished, as the bill authorizing this has been signed by Governor Hanly.

California Getting Good.

Sacramento, Cal., March 3.—The assembly, by a vote of 43 to 20, has passed the Espys bill prohibiting boot-selling or wagering on a horse race and providing a fine. The Ralston anti-piracy bill has been passed by the senate on reconsideration, by a vote of 25 to 11.

BRONCHITIS.
Everybody Knows What It Is— But Everybody Does Not Know What Will Cure It.

W. F. Peter Drug Co. Tells The People Of Seymour.

Asked one day in his store the question, "What is good for bronchitis?" Mr. Peter of the W. F. Peter Drug Co., answered, "The best way I can tell you is to ask you to read this letter from Miss Anna Ray of Bangor, Me. We have lots of such cases right here at home."

It read as follows:
"For five years I was troubled with a terrible cough and bronchitis. I tried a great many different preparations without getting relief. I could not sleep, and I became so weak I could hardly walk, and coughed day and night. Then I took Vinol. What a godsend that first bottle was! I had not taken half of it before I noticed a change for the better. I took four bottles in all and am entirely cured, and in perfect health."

"Now we have been talking up Vinol to the people of Seymour for a long time," continued Mr. Peter, "and I suppose some people think we are crazy on the subject, but really we hear such marvellous results from Vinol all the time that we believe it to be the greatest remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles that we have ever sold in our store. It never disappoints people, and we do like to sell a thing that gives satisfaction. Vinol is cod liver oil medicine without the oil, and wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil preparations will do good. Vinol will do more good, for it is delicious to the taste and powerful as a curative agent."

"I wish every person in Seymour who is overworked, run down, debilitated, every old person, every weak woman, every sufferer with fall colds, bronchitis or ineffectual consumption, every nervous, irritable person or any one suffering with stomach troubles, would take advantage of my guarantee to refund them money if Vinol does not help them and restore them to health. Please call at our store and learn more about it." W. F. Peter Drug Co.

An Old Book.
Wm. Wiesner, of Rockford, is the owner of an old book that he prizes very highly. He purchased this book at Corbin Drake's sale near Redding about 35 years ago. The book was published at Glasgow, Scotland, 1785. It contains the "Confession of the Faith and doctrine, Believed and Professed by the Protestants at Scotland," two chapters on church discipline, the Catechism, the National Covenant, the Form of Presbyterian Church Government, "Directory for the Public Worship of God," "Directory for Family Worship," the Westminster Confession of Faith, the Larger Catechism, the Shorter Catechism, and many other things setting forth the doctrines of the church and its mode of government. The book is one of much interest, not merely because of its age, but of what it contains.

Judge of Debate.
Judge O. H. Montgomery left this morning for Urbana, Illinois, where he acts as one of the judges of the annual debate between the state universities of Indiana and Illinois tonight. The question for debate is the ship subsidy question, the Indiana debaters opposing the granting of a subsidy and Illinois favoring it. Each side has three debaters and the teams are said to be the strongest the universities possess. Judge E. O. Brown, of Chicago, and Prof. Jones, of the University of Michigan, are the other judges. The debate will be held in the University Armory at Urbana and a great crowd is expected.

Dr. Herbert L. Willett.
It is rarely indeed that the opportunity is offered to Seymour people to listen to such an eloquent speaker as Dr. Herbert L. Willett of the University of Chicago. He will deliver a lecture on "New Continents," at the Christian Church on the evening of March 6th. He is a most fascinating speaker and his lectures are most interesting and instructive. His free and easy manner [win for him the closest attention of his auditors.

Are You Engaged?
Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well." W. F. Peter Drug Co., sells and guarantees them at 50c a bottle.

It will pay you to notice the window at The Fair Store. m4d

Parental Blessing.
Complimentary to previous remarks we take the following from the Cincinnati Enquirer:
"Miss Pearl M. Robinson, youngest daughter of 'Governor Jack' Robinson, of the Robinson Circus, who was wedded in Seymour, Ind., on Wednesday, to Harry Lamkin, an acrobat, returned to her father's home at Terrace Park yesterday, and received paternal forgiveness."

DIED.
MASHINO.—Michael Mashino, whose home was just over the corporation line east of Seymour, died very suddenly Thursday evening. He came to town in the morning, was apparently in as good health as usual. After three o'clock he started out home and stopped at Peter Leigh's blacksmith shop as he frequently did. After he was there a little while he remarked that his head was hurting him and he wished he was home. Immediately after that he began to stagger and Mr. Leigh came to his assistance. Just then J. U. Montgomery came up in his mail wagon and was asked to take Mr. Mashino home, which he did. Mr. Leigh went along and assisted in carrying Mr. Mashino into the house for he was then unconscious. He lived only a few moments after they got him home. Michael Mashino was seventy-two years, eleven months and seventeen days of age. He was born in Germany, came to this country when a young man and became a resident of the Four Corners neighborhood in Jennings county about forty years ago. About two years ago he moved just east of Seymour. He leaves a wife, one brother and a sister. The funeral will be from the residence at 1 p. m., Saturday, conducted by the Rev. Father Conrad.
